Brookfield Public Market updates

With plans to break ground in Summer 2026, the Brookfield Public Market will bring new energy and purpose to the former Boston Store site at Brookfield Square. This two-story, 52,000-square-foot development will offer year-round events, activities, and community connections. The market will feature a mix of permanent and temporary vendor stalls for food and retail, outdoor gathering areas, flexible spaces, an executive boardroom, and event plazas.

More than a construction project, the Brookfield Public Market is a community investment. It will be a place where local chefs, bakers, artisans, and specialty grocers can grow their businesses alongside cafés and eateries—supporting entrepreneurship, strengthening small businesses, and creating new jobs.

The Public Market will offer opportunities for vendors, events, sponsorships, naming rights, and employment.

Interested in more information?

Scan here or visit www.brookfieldpublicmarket.com and sign up for our monthly newsletter to stay in the loop.

The Public Market will be a daily destination where residents and visitors can shop for fresh goods, discover local products, meet friends for coffee or lunch, and enjoy public events. More than just a place to eat, it will bring people together and serve as a cornerstone of community life in Brookfield.
